

Barcode Reading - Code

CODE OVERVIEW

Code is a technology leader in the latest generation of image based barcode reading systems. Using advanced high definition and multi-resolution optics, coupled with flawless Bluetooth® communications systems packaged in uniquely ergonomic packages for the mobile worker, the Code product line is used in critical applications in health care, public safety, technology manufacturing, transportation and other diverse industries.

Barcode reading technology, and increasingly, two-dimensional barcodes, are necessary for the supply chain we take for granted. Code continues to enhance its leadership position by providing products to Value Added Resellers, Private Label manufacturers, and barcode printer and reader distributors worldwide.

Barcode readers improve internal data collection and data exchange with trading partners, physical tracking, authentication and security of goods, and better processes for quality, inspection, and process control.
